

USSN 10/810,110
Reply To Office Action Dated August 19, 2005
Amendment C

IN THE CLAIMS:

1. (Original) A bedding cover having a hidden multisided access flap for improved access to a pocket of the bedding cover, the bedding cover comprising:
 - a front panel;
 - a back panel sized larger than the front panel connected to the front panel providing a pocket between the front panel and the back panel;
 - a multisided access flap within the back panel providing access to the pocket;
 - a first fastener for securing a first side of the flap, a first portion of the first fastener held by the connection between the front panel and back panel, a second portion of the first fastener connected to the first side of the access flap;
 - a first hiding flap substantially covering the first fastener provided by an edge of the back panel opposing the first side of the access flap;
 - a second fastener for securing a second side of the flap, a first portion of the second fastener held by the connection between the front panel and back panel, a second portion of the second fastener connected to the second side of the access flap; and
 - a second hiding flap substantially covering the second fastener provided by a second edge of the back panel opposing the second side of the access flap.
2. (Original) The bedding cover of claim 1 further comprising a stitching connecting the front panel and back panel defining the pocket and providing a flange about the pocket.

USSN 10/810,110
Reply To Office Action Dated August 19, 2005
Amendment C

3.(Original) The bedding cover of claim 1 wherein the first fastener is positioned substantially perpendicular to the second fastener providing multidirectional access to the pocket.

4. (Original) The bedding cover of claim 3 further comprising a stitching connecting a peripheral edge of the front panel to a peripheral edge of the back panel.

5.(Original) The bedding cover of claim 4 wherein the peripheral edge of the front panel is defined by a first hem portion and the peripheral edge of the back panel is defined by a second hem portion, the first and second hem portion secured by the stitching.

6. (Original) The bedding cover of claim 5 wherein the first fastener and second fastener are zippers.

Claims 7-29, inclusive. (Canceled)